

SPEAKERS BUREAU

Presentation Information

Presentation Category	Officer Fitness, Safety & Wellness
Presentation Title	Transforming Behaviors - How Not to Become Part of the Crime Scene
Presentation Length	120 Minutes
Presentation Objective	Upon completion of this course, participants will have acquired skills that are essential in incorporating training and safety measures in situations where officers tend to be complacent or distracted. The course serves as an excellent reminder of the dangers of inattention to potential threats and offers excellent opportunities to teach specific, potentially life-saving behaviors in response to those threats.
Presentation Description	The brazen attacks on members of today's law enforcement community are unprecedented. In this time of increased violence, officer safety and back-to-basics training initiatives are paramount. This course serves as a reminder of the dangers of inattention in situations where officers tend to be complacent or distracted and highlights actual incidents of deadly and potentially deadly situations that serve as valuable training tools for officer survival. Discussion points include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Since when do people with mental illness not pose a threat?• Taser vs Firearm vs Taser• Training and agency policy• Teachable Moments• Time/Distance/Back-up

	Note: This course is designed to be accurate and authoritative with regard to the subject matter and provides factual information on actual cases of violent crime. Simulations of violent activity and/or behavior that may occur in situations are also included.
Speaker Name & Session	Donna Kinsey, NA Session 222
Speaker Phone Number	(786) 255-6054
Speaker Email	yntaw21@yahoo.com
Speaker's Biography	Major Donna Kinsey, (Ret), NA Session 222, and Miami area NA Representative began her career in Law Enforcement in 1980 and has been actively involved in training for over 30 years. During her career, she served in nearly every division within her Department including serving as the Department's Rangemaster, where she developed the Department's Law Enforcement Response to Active Shooter protocol. She produced the police department's first Annual Report, saluting women in law enforcement and military women who lost their lives in the line of duty. As editor and feature writer, the report highlighted the many contributions that women have to offer while facing the demands of working a full-time job, being a mother and wife. During her career, she received numerous recognitions and honors including being a three-time recipient of the Department's top honor, the "Administrative Excellence" award, and the FBI "Women in Law Enforcement Leadership Award." She earned her bachelor's degree in Organizational Leadership at St. Thomas University in Miami, and her master's degree in Public Administration at Barry University in Miami, Florida, graduating Summa Cum Laude from both institutions. She was the 1st woman selected to attend the FBI National Academy in the history of her Department. She is a graduate of FBINA Session 222. She has been featured in numerous articles and publications, including the FBINAA magazine "Extraordinary Members." She is the founder and CEO of TEC III, Training Enhancement Center, a company that offers training and consulting to public and private organizations.

