SPEAKERS BUREAU

Presentation Information

Presentation Category	Officer Fitness, Safety & Wellness
Presentation Title	Seconds For Survival
Presentation Length	4-8 Hours
Presentation Objective	Leaders will be given a validated model to implement within their agency that can reduce the use of force and prevent officer injury. Science reveals that violence can be predicted, and when officers are given the tools, they can react (and survive) well before the violence occurs.
Presentation Description	Seconds for Survival is a media-intensive course that describes validated behaviors that occur before violence. Attendees will receive an overview of the behavioral sciences in the context of threat management and see real-world examples of how acting on indicators can prevent violence. Additional information can be found here: https://youtu.be/SuFgRblEx7s No
Speaker Name & Session	Travis Yates, NA Session 227
Speaker Phone Number	(406) 599-3589
Speaker Email	safetac@protonmail.com
Speaker's Biography	Dr. Travis Yates retired from the Tulsa (OK) Police Department after 30 years of service. He spent 25 years as a supervisor and manager, with the last decade as a commander. Travis is an advanced-certified instructor, a past recipient of the ILEETA International Law Enforcement Trainer of the Year award, and the co-founder of the Below 100 Initiative. Over the last two decades, his seminars on risk management, officer safety, and leadership have been delivered to thousands of law enforcement professionals worldwide, including in 46 states. Travis is a recognized expert in behavior threat management and has pioneered a validated behavioral risk framework to help officers and leaders identify, assess, and articulate risk in rapidly evolving, uncertain situations. Known as the FOCUS Behavioral Risk Framework6 (Field Observable Cues for Unknown Situations), the model organizes real-time, observable behavioral and environmental cues into a structured risk assessment process Travis holds a Doctorate Degree in Strategic Leadership and is a graduate of the 227th session of the FBI National Academy. He is a sought-after court expert in patrol, policy, pursuits, and tactics, and has testified on behalf of law enforcement officers in several states. For additional information on FOCUS: https://www.travisyates.org/focus/